

1. Name: Emmanuel Ande Ivorgba, PhD

Designation: President

Affiliation: Global Interfaith University

Email ID: eivorgba@gmail.com /eivorgba@uri.org

Phone number: +2348052627310

SSRN link (if)

Orchid id (if)

Google scholar Link (If)

Short biodata doc/pdf

Dr. Emmanuel Ande Ivorgba is a renowned academic and social scientist with a distinguished research profile spanning over two decades. He holds dual PhDs in Comparative Religions and Management, complemented by advanced qualifications from Harvard Graduate School of Education, Guglielmo Marconi University, and HIPDET University. His scholarly work focuses on development studies, community engagement, and socio-economic issues affecting African societies. As a prolific researcher, Dr. Ivorgba has authored numerous peer-reviewed articles that contribute valuable insights into social dynamics, interfaith relations, and peacebuilding. He is a member of the Editorial Board of the African Quarterly Social Science Review, emphasizing his influence in shaping social science scholarship in Africa. His methodological rigor, analytical skills, and interdisciplinary approach have earned him recognition in academic circles. Additionally, his research often intersects with practical applications in peacebuilding, education, and social cohesion, making his work highly relevant for policy and community development. As a dedicated academic, Dr. Ivorgba actively mentors students, supervises theses, and promotes scholarly engagement across institutions in Africa, India, and beyond. His comprehensive research profile underscores his commitment to advancing knowledge and fostering social transformation through rigorous scholarship and innovative inquiry.